LADIES' NIGHT EVENTS DELIGHT GREAT HORSE SHOW THROUGH

Joseph B. Willard, who had a seat in his box on the west side of the building, was the recipient of many greetings from friends, and was kept busy handshaking throughout the evening. Among others noted in the audience was Major William H. Blackford, of Baltimore, president of the Maryland Life Insurance Company, and a member of the distinguished Blackford family of Virginia. Mr. Charles Early, of Washington, D. C., member of another prominent Virginia family, was present last night. Among those noted in the audience was Mr. William King, Jr., of Lynchburg, former president of the tobacco association of that city and still prominent in the trade.

Ministers Present.

Several members of the clergy of the city were present last night, among the number being Rev. William E. Evans, D. D., of Monumental Church, who was busy greeting friends wherever he turned. The Virginia doctors were liberally sprinkled in the audience last night, as on the preceding night, being in the city to attend the meeting of the State Medical Society.

The programme last night was carried out in every detail, and held the crowd until nearly 11:30 before the cavalrymen dashed in for the closing act of the evening. There was but one accident during the evening, and that, fortunately, was without serious or even severe consequences. It was the fall of Mr. Percy Evans, while riding Mr. Courtland H. Smith's big bay hunter, Colonel Hawkins. The horse struck the fence during the second jump, clearing the fence down and falling with his rider. Mr. Evans, with great coolness and dexterity, rolled out of the way, holding to the reins all the while, and in a twinkling, was again on his feet, and, remounting, finished the class with aplomb.

The popularity of the programme was due in large measure to the participation of the ladies, both as drivers and riders. In the ladies' hunter class, Miss Skelton, Miss Holloway, Mrs. Allen Potts and Mrs. C. H. Smith rode, Miss Skelton having several mounts and riding the winner in the class. Mr. Courtland H. Smith's veteran Up-to-Date, the horse making a clean performance amid great applause. By riding the winner in this class, Miss Skelton won the handsome silver cup offered by the association, and her victory was received with every demonstration of satisfaction by the large crowd. The same young lady handled Mr. Scott's team in the class for harness pairs, and in the class for saddle horses.

The Grosvenor horses again demonstrated their superiority last night, winning the blue in two harness classes, and the red also in one of them and capturing all three money prizes in the class for saddle horses.

Splendid Competitors.

There were eight splendid competitors for the honors in the saddle horse class, including besides the Grosvenor entries, Mrs. Johnson's Robin Adair, Dr. Ricketts's Lady Olga, Dr. Shirley Carter's Vindicator, Mr. Holloway's Fleurette and Mr. Lyne's brown mare Flirt. The blue ribbon in the class went to the Grosvenor's Corinne, ridden by Mr. Donnelly, who received the red, and Petroleum, last year's champion saddle, ridden by Mrs. Grosvenor, could do no better than third against his stablemates. Miss Carter's Vindicator was given the white ribbon. It was an aristocratic company of saddlers in which even a white ribbon is a high honor.

In the rider class there were but four entries, Mr. S. G. Atkins having scratched his entry of Red Light, a fast trotter, while Stanhope B. was also scratched. Mr. Atkins's action in withdrawing Red Light was due to what he regarded as unfair discrimination against his rider on Tuesday night, in which he was a competitor. After a hot competition, the blue ribbon went to Mr. E. A. Saunders's Miss Shaw. Mr. Pollard's Crown Prince landed the red ribbon. The yellow and third money went to Mr. E. A. Saunders, Jr.'s, Red Bird, while Mr. R. B. Saunders's Rosalie S., won the white over Mr. T. J. Moore's Chelbelle.

The class for pairs of horses in harness brought out four competitors. Mr. Donnelly driving Mrs. Grosvenor's Fascination and Elevation, a beautiful pair of chestnuts, was awarded the blue, while the red went to Mr. John K. Branch's Mignonette and Heliotrope, driven by their owner. The other Grosvenor entry, Carnation and Rose Leaf, driven by Miss Gebert, was given the yellow, leaving Mr. Scott's team, driven by Miss Skelton, to receive the white ribbon.

Aroused Enthusiasm.

In the class for sporting tandems there were five competitors. Messrs. Scott and Carnation and Rose Leaf, driven by Miss Gebert, were doing themselves proud, winning second honors and the red ribbon. The first prize went to the Igor Brothers' entry, largely on their fine performance over the jumps. The West entry, Extra News and the Herald, won third.

S. G. Atkins, was scratched in the class to the disapproval of her many admirers. Five speedy ones faced the judges. Messrs. Parker and Caner, who requested that Adam Beck to join them in making a decision. Mr. Saunders drove one of his entries and his son drove another. It is pleasant to note two generations of sportsmen in the ring. Mr. Grant drove Mr. Ellerson's good bay gelding, Stanhope. Miss Shaw, a great looking brown mare, shown in the class, was purchased on yesterday by Mr. John K. Branch. Mr. John Spratley, the well known horseman, was enthusiastic in his praise of the mare. He has said she is good enough to win in the garden.

The class was far beyond the average and I especially noticed the careful and intelligent manner, in which Mr. E. A. Saunders was turned out. His appointments were perfect.

Miss Shaw Wins.

Blue went to Mr. John K. Branch's recent purchase, Miss Shaw, driven by Mr. Saunders. Red to Mr. Pollard's Crown Prince, yellow to Mr. Saunders's Red Bird S., driven by Mr. Saunders, and white to Mr. Saunders's Rosalie S., driven by Mr. Page.

The most important harness decision of the show was next on the card. The question that confronted the judges was whether the award should go to Mr. John K. Branch's pair, Mignonette and Heliotrope, or to Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor's.

Pioneer and Mote, Mr. George Cole Scott's Whip.

Fascination and Elevation. On Tuesday night Mignonette won the decision over Fascination, and now the question comes up: Can the pair of Richmond horses hold their own against the Grosvenor entry. Conformation, quality, style and all-around action was called for and horses were required to go a good pace. Besides the pairs I have mentioned, Miss Gebert drove a beautiful pair of dark chestnuts for Mr. Grosvenor, and Miss Skelton showed Mr. George Cole Scott's gray and black.

Elevation never went better. The pace they went in the small ring was remarkable. Mr. Branch's pair of chestnuts went well, but did not settle quickly, and this proved fatal at a critical moment. Donally's pair showed bad manners for a moment at the turn near the gate going into the barrier, but were away again almost before it was noted.

The award went to Mrs. Grosvenor's Fascination and Elevation, driven by Donally. Second to Mr. John K. Branch's Mignonette and Heliotrope, great going chestnut pair. Third to Mrs. Grosvenor's Carnation and Rose Leaf, driven in excellent form by Miss Gebert. Miss Skelton won fourth for Mr. Scott. The winning pair carried off all honors at the show here last year. They were then the property of Mr. Trowbridge Hollister, but were handled by Jack Donally. There is joy in the Blue and Red stable to-night.

THE DETAILED STORY.

Last Night's Events Graphically Related by Mr. Potts.

At eleven o'clock on yesterday morning conformation was judged for last night's hunter classes, by Messrs. Beck, Hoot and Cary. The proceeding was watched with much interest by some two thousand people, who were in the building. Several of the hunters showed lameness and were practically ordered out of the ring, for a lame horse cannot win in any class.

As soon as conformation was judged, Mr. Sydney Holloway schooled Mr. Courtland H. Smith's great jumping pony, Aurora, by Northern Light. Mr. Holloway rode the small mare over the poles set at five feet and received liberal applause for his excellent riding. Later he rode his gray gelding, Free Lance, over the stakes at 5 feet 3 1/2 inches. To-night Aurora will try to go 5 feet 5 inches to break her public record. The little mare is a great jumper and I have no doubt, but that she will do the trick. Free Lance will have a try at the high jump, together with Gray Rock and Nancy Lee.

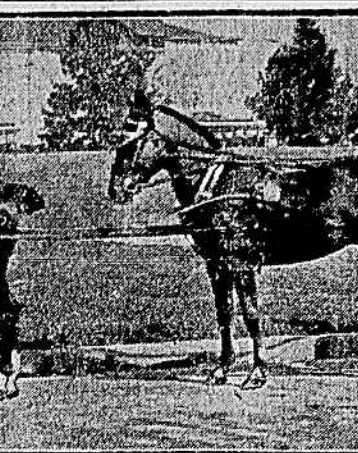

Five o'clock programme last night was the class for pairs of Virginia harness horses. Four pairs entered the gate and the entries were most creditable. Mr.

Use of hunting men driving their hunters as leaders before high acting cobs in going to a meet of hounds. It was supposed that it was easier on the hunter to be driven rather than ridden to the meet, and also that it was more comfortable for the hunting man to drive to meet rather than back it. Leaders in this class should be strictly hunter type, and the wheeler should be a high acting cob of substance and speed. Leaders should gallop. It is said that the hunting tandem was especially popular at Oxford University in the older days. Students were not allowed to hunt, but were allowed to drive tandem, so it was the practice amongst the University men to drive their hunters as leaders until the University boundaries were passed. Then the leader was saddled and away, like honest John Peel, to the sound of the horn and the cry of the hounds.

Five tandem bids for honors, driven by men in hunting colors. The harness judges got in their work and turned the leaders over to the jump judges. The ring presented a busy scene when the leaders were being saddled and the jumps were being brought in. Leaders should gallop. It is said that the hunting tandem was especially popular at Oxford University in the older days. Students were not allowed to hunt, but were allowed to drive tandem, so it was the practice amongst the University men to drive their hunters as leaders until the University boundaries were passed. Then the leader was saddled and away, like honest John Peel, to the sound of the horn and the cry of the hounds.

Mr. Osborne rode Lily Day clean. It was a brilliant performance. Mr. Hoot rode Charity, knocking down the rails and making a bad performance. Mr. Rogers rode Red Raven; went clear in good style.

Blue went to Messrs. Rogers Brothers.

Pioneer and Mote, Mr. George Cole Scott's Whip.

Red to Messrs. Scott and Osborne, Pioneer and Lily Day. Yellow to Messrs. Reese and West's Extra News and Charity, and white to Messrs. Grant and Beattie.

Ladies' hunters proved a great card. There were seven scratched and excluded by the judges. A few entries proved to be lame. Ladies who rode in this class were required to be members of acregion hunt.

Mrs. Allen Potts rode Fire Light clean; a perfect performance. Miss Holloway rode Jack Frost, with one rap. Miss Skelton rode Mrs. Smith's Up-to-Date, with one light rap. Mrs. Smith rode Tip Top, with two hard raps. Miss Skelton rode Mr. David Dunlop's Nancy Lee, with one rap. Miss Holloway had the mount on Freeland, with two raps. Miss Skelton rode Mr. Smith's Chaparral Lee, with three raps. Miss Holloway rode Flurette, she went into the brush and made two raps. Miss Skelton rode Lily Day, with two raps. Miss Holloway, on Buck, received a round of applause. She made one rap. Mrs. Skelton rode Mrs. Forbes's Quickstep, making two raps.

The class was a good one, and while there were raps still the hunters went in a good, honest way, and most of them proved themselves safe to carry a side-saddle.

Up-to-Date Blue.

Blue went to Mrs. Smith's Up-to-Date, ridden by Miss Skelton. Red to Jack Frost, ridden by Miss Holloway. Yellow to Mrs. Allen Potts's Fire Light, and white to Mrs. Smith's Chaparral Lee, ridden by Miss Skelton.

Mrs. Skelton won the very handsome silver cup, offered by the association, to the lady riding the winner in the class. The class for heavy-weight green hunters brought out a field of nine. Conformation counted 40 per cent. in this class and performance over the jumps counted 60 per cent. Horses were required to be up to carrying 150 pounds to hounds.

Allen Potts rode first on Benedict, making one rap. Toraz went second, ridden by Mrs. Percy Evans, making one rap. Nancy Lee made a clean performance, ridden by Mr. Osborne. Lily Day, ridden by Mr. Osborne, knocked down the rails. Colonel Hawkins, ridden by Mr. Evans, went down at the rails, giving Mr. Evans a bad fall. Fortunately no damage was done, and Mr. Evans pluckily remounted and rode over the remaining jumps. The crowd applauded Mr. Evans, who took off his hat.

Mr. Osborne had the mount on Mr. Fred W. Scott's mare, Stanhope. The mare made a bad performance and did not seem to care to face the made jumps. She has never been in the ring, but is brilliant in the field.

Mr. Evans rode Robert, The Devil, for Mr. Smith. The horse made a bad performance. He is, I am told, great in the field, but has never faced made jumps.

Mr. Beattie's Pueblo went out on three refusals.

Blue went to Mr. David Dunlop's Nancy Lee, ridden by Mr. Osborne. Red to Mrs. Allen Potts's Benedict, ridden by Mr. Allen Potts. Yellow to Mr. Smith's Toraz, ridden by Mr. Evans, and white to Mr. Smith's Robert, The Devil, ridden by Mr. Evans.

The show has been excellent to-night, and an enormous crowd enjoyed it, and applauded liberally.

We are having the best show that has ever been held south of New York.

CHANCE FOR CHILDREN.

Matinee To-day at Horse Show Will Bring Out Little People.

The management of the Horse Show has made the programme for the matinee at 2 P. M. to-day one of the most varied and attractive of the entire week. As a further inducement to large attendance by ladies and children, it has been announced that the general admission fee of fifty cents will entitle any one to a seat anywhere in the house outside the boxes, and the first three rows, A, B and C. Only the rows named are reserved. This is an excellent opportunity for the school children and the little tots to see the performances of the horses.

Seats will be reserved for the matinee in the first three rows up to noon at the office at No. 508 East Main Street. After that the box sheet will be at the Amphitheatre, where seats can be reserved up to the hour of the performance and even later.

The programme for the matinee to-day embraces the classes for horses and runabouts, ponies in harness, ladies' runabouts driven by ladies, combination harness and saddle horses, park tandems, Virginia harness horses, qualified light-weight hunters, green light-weight hunters, and the class for ribbons. The Deep Run Hunt Club. The matinee will close with the exhibition by the cavalry. There are nine entries for the combination harness and saddle horse honors at the matinee, three competitors in the tandem class, seven in the Virginia harness class, eight in the qualified light-weight hunters, and eighteen in the light-weight green hunters. In the class for Deep Run Hunt Club horses there are fifteen entries. No programme of the week embraces more jumping than to-day's matinee.

At to-night's performance an extra exhibition has been added to the programme. Among the Cavalry and Smith's champion high jumping pony will go against his own record of 5 feet 4 inches. Mr. Sidney Holloway, one of the finest riders ever seen here will take the pony over the jumps and endeavor to establish a new record. This will immediately follow the high jump competition in which Fred Duke and Grey Rock, two of the best ever shown here, will compete for honors and new records. Both horses will be ridden by expert riders.

After the competition in the four-hand class to-night, Mr. John H. Donnelly, driver of the Grosvenor stables,

VIRGINIA BRIEFS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, Va., Oct. 22.—Governor Frazer, of Tennessee, has offered a reward of $200 for the capture of Grover and Clinton Watson, the brothers who are charged with the murder of William S. Burton, the man who was shot to death in South Bristol a few nights ago. The fugitives escaped, and it is believed they are now in hiding in the southwestern portion of this State.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va.—At a meeting of the City Council last night the Committee on Light brought in a report recommending that new gas works be built for the city at a cost of $25,000. The committee was directed to bring in plans, specifications, etc., and the question will be taken up by the voters of the city.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va.—Jefferson Johnson, a Fox Hill youth, nineteen years old, lies in Dixie Hospital at the point of death, having been shot in the chest by a bullet in his arm. He was one of a party who attended a wedding at Epworth Methodist Church, in Fox Hill, and who later seconded the married couple. After leaving the house Alfred Johnson, another member of the party, whipped out his revolver to fire it into the air. The pistol was accidentally discharged, however, the bullet entering Johnson's right eye.

PORTLAND, Me.—The Norfolk foot-ball team left to-night for Greensboro, N. C., where it will play the University of North Carolina to-morrow. The team is composed of crack college players from several institutions, and is one of the strongest amateur eleven not connected with the N. F. A. A. Association.

SOUTH BOSTON, Va.—Mr. Beverly Snyder, one of the popular young men of this place, who left here two years ago for Central Africa in the interest of the American Tobacco Company, has returned. He gives interesting accounts of his novel and thrilling experiences. He expects to return shortly.

WINCHESTER, Va.—Elizabeth Worthington, the little daughter of Mr. Worthington, president of the Worthington Tobacco Company, upset a lamp at her home last night and was badly burned. Her face and arms were severely and finally extinguished before spreading to her face by her grandmother, Mrs. Maria Worthington, whose hands were also burned.

Model Sunday School Room.

At Marshall Street Christian Church Mr. Melton's subject will be "What Influence Does My Life Exert in the morning, and in the evening." "A Model Young Widow."

At a large congregational meeting of this church held last Sunday afternoon it was unanimously decided to erect a new model Sunday school room and make other improvements. This work is expected to begin at once.

Dr. Hannon to Young Men.

Rev. John Hannon, D. D., will speak at the Young Men's Christian Association to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on "True Manhood." Dr. Hannon has a plithy way of putting things. He says things in such a way that you can remember them. At 8:30 Dr. Hannon will speak, and at 4:45 the big family Bible class will meet in the parlors of the association. General Secretary M'ee has returned to the city, and will conduct the class.

Dies From Effects of Fall.

Eddie Booker, colored, who several weeks ago fell from a Broad Street car, while attempting to jump to avoid an accident, died at the Virginia Hospital yesterday. The man was not expected to live, as his skull was fractured and finally died from meningitis. He was for many years cook at Campbell's Restaurant.

Choyenski Throws It Up.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—The fight between Joe Choyenski and "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, scheduled for next Tuesday night, has been declared off. The reason was a telegram from Choyenski, which said: "Call fight off. Am out of game for good."

Richmonders in New York.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, October 21.—Valdorf, G. B. Hall and wife; Astor, W. H. Davidson; Grand, K. W. Jones, Mrs. C. Wall; Park Avenue, H. B. Price; Mrs. (Mrs. A. J. Monique, B. S. Thomas; Imperial, W. G. Maury; Lincoln, A. Ryan; Herald Square, H. W. Tyler and wife.

Engagements Cancelled.

(By Associated Press.)
BALTIMORE, N. C., Oct. 21.—Governor Aycock has been compelled to cancel his appointment to speak in the North and West for the Democratic National Committee because his son is ill with typhoid fever.

Personals and Briefs.

daughter, Miss Ellen Converse, of Louisville, Ky., are staying at the corner of Third and Franklin with Mrs. Bettie Abbott.

Miss Blanche Sanders and Mr. Marion Sanders, who have been guests of Mrs. W. S. Gordon, of this city, will leave to-night for their home in Wythe county.

Among the out-of-town visitors to the Horse Show during the week were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Truax, of Montclair, N. J., who are spending a portion of their honeymoon in Richmond as the guests of Captain Charles A. Crawford, No. 801 West Main Street.

Mr. Childrey Honored.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, October 21.—The National Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents to-day elected A. H. Robinson, of Louisville, president, and L. W. Childrey, of Norfolk, Va., one of the vice-presidents.

To-morrow morning at Grove Avenue Baptist Church, Dr. J. B. Hawthorne will deliver his fourth sermon in the series on the sayings of Christ upon the Mount.

The topic of this discourse will be "Spiritual Byes—the Good and the Bad." At 8 P. M., his theme will be "Made Great Through Suffering."

Free Entertainment To-night.

A free entertainment will be given to-night at the 19th Street Methodist Mission, under the direction of Mrs. W. M. Black, of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Dr. A. J. Tenley will make an address. Chocolate and cake will be served as refreshments.

Bunch of Keys.

A bunch of keys was found by some one in the Second District and left at the Second Station, where identification may recover the property.

THE CARROLLTON CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

Spinster, Mrs. Allen Potts Up.

David Dunlop's pair, driven by Mr. Courtland Smith, won out for first place. Mr. Alexander Hamilton's fine pair of horses took the red; yellow went to Messrs. Broese and West, and white to Mr. Geo. Cole Scott.

Both first and second place in this class was won by residents of Petersburg. The sports from the banks of the Appomattox are doing themselves proud.

Roadsters held the attention of the audience for the next twenty minutes. The class called for appointments and in such detail that percentages for robes, blankets and whips were spoiled. Red Light, the fast mare, belonging to Mr.

as she always does, but the horse did not show manners.

Dr. Carter made a good impression with Vindicator as did Mr. Holloway in Fleurette. Miss Holloway rode this mare third place on Wednesday night. The judges called out Corinne, Petroleum, Dixie, Fleurette and Vindicator from which Mrs. Groves chose the ribbon. The Grosvenor entries went one, two three—a great showing—Corinne won blue, Dixie red and Petroleum yellow. Dr. Shirley Carter's Vindicator took white.

Grosvenor Wins Again.

Ladies' pairs next claimed the tan bark. Horses counted 50 per cent. and appointment 50 per cent. in the class. This is the social class of show, and the crowd takes the greatest interest in the award.

Mrs. Grosvenor's Fascination and Elevation, driven by Mrs. Donally, easily outclassed the other competitors. They were far and away the best in the class. Mrs. Grosvenor drove her other pair, Carnation and Rose Leaf, extra a stanhope. Mrs. Reese showed Extra News and Sporting Extra before Mr. George IV. Platon and Miss Skelton showed Mr. George Cole Scott's Vivid and Venture.

The Grosvenor entries went one, two in the class. Fascination and Elevation, driven by Miss Gebert, won the award; Carnation and Elevation went second. Drivers Mrs. George IV. Platon and West pair, driven by Mrs. Reese, took third honors, and fourth place went to Mr. Scott's pair, driven by Miss Skelton.

The class for hunting tandems was the next thing on the card. This class was open only to horses owned in the State. Hunting and park tandems in the show class. The custom originated in the practice
